A Strong Man.

An Italian in Reno, Nevada, boasts that he is the strongest man in the world. His spinal column seems to be double, and his bones and joints are all very large. He has repeatedly lifted with the third finger of his right hand men weighing from 150 to 200 pounds, by placing his finger under the hollow of one of their feet, and thus carrying them round a room. He can strike with his fist a blow with a power of 500 pounds, as measured on a register; and when a couple of big Irishmen attacked him recently, he seized one in each hand and knocked them together until they were insensible and half dead.

The family physician. Mrs. Helen R. Shalters, 420 Walnut St., Reading, Pa., states: "We always use Salvation Oil for what it is recommended in place of a physician. It never fails."

At the present moment the police system, in all its branches, costs England close upon $20,000,000 a year.

Get the Best.

This is what you want and it is a maxim that you can paste in your hat and act upon through life. It is the best always that regulates the price. Its the best that sells, its the best that makes the demand. When you go to your druggists tell him you want the best cough medicine and that is Reid's GERMAN COUGH AND KIDNEY CURE. This is the best because it contains no poison, because it acts at once, because it is impossible to take an overdose, because it will positively cure croup in children, because you can save the lives of your little ones without allowing them to suffer. Reputable druggists now give a customer what he wants without trying to sell him something "just as good." They appreciate the fact that when a man gets something that he does not ask for he is very apt to be dissatisfied. There is in the American mind a holy horror of "being worked" and there is nothing that is resented quicker. When you go to your druggist therefore ask for Reid's German Cough AND KIDNEY CURE and insist upon his giving it to you. Do not take anything else. The small bottles are 25 cents, the large size is 50 cents.

THE SUNDAY "MEETING."

Former Church-Going Habits in New England.

The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, in the Atlantic Monthly, thus speaks of the church-going habits of the New England of his boyhood:

We "went to meeting" morning and afternoon always, and so, I am apt to think, did all respectable people; certainly in the earlier part of those years. I know that I never observed any distinction between the size of the congregation in the afternoon and that of the morning. I know that any person who had been week the teeth should be scrubbed out seen driving out of town on Sunday, either in the morning or in the afternoon, would have lost credit in the community. I wonder, in passing, whether that phrase "my hearers" is as familiar to young people now as it was then. It was a bit of pulpit slang, such as one never hears in a lecture-room or in a political meeting. The people, instead of being addressed as "you," or as "friends," or as "members of the church of Christ," were spoken to as "hearers." I doubt if I ever hear that word now without giv-
